Activation

Using an Adobe ID when downloading and activating e-books allows the user to read the e-book on several devices. Without an Adobe ID, it's only possible to read the book on one device. The following instructions detail how to register an Adobe ID. This registration is free of charge.

By clicking the "get an Adobe ID online" link in the installation program you will be taken to Adobe's registration page. Click "Create an Adobe Account."

A form will be displayed. Enter your information into the form; the fields marked with a star are mandatory.

Once you have entered your information in the form, click "Continue." If your entered information is valid, a message will be displayed stating that the registration was successful.

Now enter your Adobe ID and password in Adobe Digital Editions and click "Authorize." This is found under the drop down menu next to "Library." All subsequently downloaded e-books will be authorized with your Adobe ID; if you install ADE in another device and enter the same Adobe ID, it will be possible to copy your books to this other device.
